Cow Herd Cost of Production and Winter Feeding—Denise Schwab, ISU Extension Beef Specialist

Learn what it costs to maintain a beef cow herd, why that is important, and what practices help control costs and increase profitability. Feed and nutrition are one of the biggest cost of production, and has a huge impact on cow reproduction. Winter feeding is a major concern for 2020, and will be a focus of this session also.

Calving Management—Dr. Caitlin Wiley and Dr. Grant Dewell, ISU Veterinarians and “Caramel & Butterscotch”

Delivering live calves is critical for cow herd profitability. Assistance is usually only needed occasionally, but at that time do you know how to assist the cow? This workshop will utilize “Caramel and Butterscotch” to teach best practices for assisting difficult calf deliveries and provide the opportunity to practice. Newborn calf care will also be discussed.

Cow Herd Health Management—Dr. Shelly Reid, Jesup Vet Clinic

Learn about general vaccine management, vaccination recommendations and schedules, general herd health issues, and hot topics for the area.

Cow Management Calendar—Denise Schwab, ISU Extension Beef Specialist

Learn what needs to happen each month of the year to maintain the cow herd, stay on top of supplies needed, and timing for general herd practices.

“I calve out 200 cows a year, but I learned so much from this program!”

Join us to learn with women just like you! All sessions are planned for women working on or managing dairy or beef cow herds with lots of hands-on activities and discussion opportunities.
