"I wish every one of my ag loan clients would take this course!" ~ Ag Lender and 2019 course attendee

This course was developed from a week-long professional development school Patrick Wall attended in Colorado. Just by making a few simple management changes the operation was able to eliminate the operating note and enhance the profitability of the cow calf enterprise.

$50 registration fee. We ask for commitment to all sessions because the classes build upon each other. Light meal will be served at each session. Registration required by February 8th.
