Iowa Cow-Calf Production Exploring Different Management Systems

This project worked with 28 cooperating producers on several key objectives: assess emerging beef cow management technologies, summarize production and environmental data, develop decision aids and educational tools to assist Iowa cow-calf operators, and improve sustainability within all major cow-calf production systems in Iowa. The Iowa cow systems meeting series will include discussion of project findings, best management practices and keys to profitability across systems, and opportunities and challenges of various production systems.
